

World Trade Center Seattle Announces 2017 Events Series

on APRIL 6, 2017 • NEW IN THE NW / WASHINGTON • SEATTLE / WASHINGTON • 7 VIEWS

World Trade Center Seattle (WTCSE) recently announced its 2017 professional panel series, featuring some of the area's top CEOs. The events will be hosted at WTCSE, which is part of the world's largest international educational and business services network. It provides access, collaboration and networking opportunities to business leaders and entrepreneurs throughout the region. Tickets range from $25 to $50 for WTCSE members and from $35 to $60 for nonmembers.

The 2017 event lineup includes the following:

Mastering the Art of Business Entertaining

April 25, 2017 at 5 p.m.

Learn tips from expert panelists on how to bring order, ease and flair to any event, creating a memorable experience for attendees.

From the CEO's Perspective—Building the Right Culture in a High-Growth Company

May 2, 2017 at 7:30 a.m.

Three CEOs will share how they are building the right culture as they lead their Seattle companies through this period of intensive growth.

From the CEO's Perspective—How CEOs Champion Inclusion

September 14, 2017 at 7:30 a.m.

Learn how aspiring female leaders encourage their male counterparts to be more effective champions for increasing the number of women in leadership positions.

Contact WTSCE to register for an event or for more information.